

Communicating the Importance of Estate Planning to Your Clients in an Evolving Estate Tax Landscape

Michelle Chapin was a featured presenter at the Tax Section meeting of the Greater Washington Society of CPAs on August 8, 2014. She explored changes in the Maryland and D.C. estate tax laws, as well as how accountants and other financial service providers can more effectively communicate the importance of estate planning to their clients.

Michelle is a member of the firm's Estate Planning, Estate & Trust Administration and Tax practice groups.
