

COVID-19 Employment Law Q&A

In today's rapidly changing social and legal environment, employers are facing a number of complicated and difficult decisions about their businesses and, in particular, their employees.

Scott Mirsky and Hayes Edwards of our Employment Law Group conducted a short legal update and Q&A, where they provided a brief summary of new and existing laws impacting employers based in MD, DC and VA as we all try to navigate this new world dealing with COVID-19-related laws and business issues.
